

COUNCILLOR JAN D'AILLY TO RUN FOR MAYOR OF WATERLOO

For immediate release

Dec. 17, 2009 WATERLOO.

Councillor Jan d'Ailly announced today his intention to run for mayor of Waterloo in the 2010 election.

"The City of Waterloo needs strong financial management, community building and environmental protection," said Mr. d'Ailly. "Citizens are telling me to push harder in these areas and I have the experience and the commitment to get it done."

"Jan gets things done," says George Breen, d'Ailly's campaign manager. "Jan's been on Council for six years. He understands how to move projects through city hall. He knows the value of partnerships and he knows how to listen and learn from citizens. He has the right combination of private sector and political experience to be a great mayor."

Jan d'Ailly, 50, was first elected in Ward 1 in 2003. He was re-elected in 2007 in Ward 6 following an expansion in the number of wards in Waterloo. He has 20 years management experience in strategic planning, marketing and business development, primarily at Babcock & Wilcox and GE Water Technologies. Mr. d'Ailly holds a BA from McGill and an MBA from the University of Western Ontario.
